

Be smart in adjudication

It has become increasingly important for those involved in the building and construction industry to recover their payments in full and on time. The legislation can be a saviour or a mill-stone for a business; there are pitfalls and there are fundamental courses of actions that can be taken to achieve the best outcome.

Who should consider this course:

This course targets those who authorises, directs, manages, drafts, prepares, advises and submits critical documents under the legislation including:

- Lawyers & Professional Preparers;
- Contract Managers and Administrators;
- Financial Advisors and Debt Collectors;
- Industrial and Interest Group Associations;
- Government Departments;
- Any informed person running a business such as developers, clients, builders, trades, suppliers, architects, engineers, surveyors, drafting services, cleaning, plant & equipment etc

In this day course you will receive expert guidance on:

- Documentation Preparation – do it yourself or get someone to prepare?
- Understanding the legislation and how it can be used or abused;
- Documentation creation, service and timing;
- Claimant and Respondent Submissions;
- Challenging the other party's case (how and when);
- Adjudicator Decisions/Determinations – challenges, certificates & judgment

The presenter – Scott Petterson (Senior Adjudicator with Able Adjudication)

A qualified lawyer and negotiator, Scott has been involved in steering committees that designed and promoted the 2003 changes to the NSW legislation. Scott was also involved in implementing the legislation in Queensland and Victoria. More recently, he was the Chief Executive Officer of an authorised nominating authority (ANA) holding appointment by the Ministers in Queensland, NSW and Victoria. Scott is a lead trainer to Adjudicators at Able Adjudication and a number of other ANAs. He has a comprehensive knowledge of the various Acts and has advised many entities on how they can be applied.

Able Adjudication

Able Adjudication is an Authorised Nominating Authority which appoints adjudicators to make decisions under the Act. Able Adjudication is committed to informing the industry of the provisions of the various security of payment legislation.

The Course
